A number of internationally recognized academics have already confirmed their participation at the congress. Amongst them, we are proud to announce the participation of Prof. Donna Street (University of Dayton, USA, President of the IAAER), Prof. Katherine Schipper (Duke University, USA, former member of the FASB), Prof. David Alexander (University of Birmingham, UK), Prof. Robert Faff (University of Queensland, Australia), Prof. Allan Hodgson (University of Amsterdam, the Netherlands, and University of Leeds, UK), Prof. Eddy Vaassen (Maastricht University, the Netherlands), Prof. Lee Yao (Loyola University, USA), Prof. Recep Pekdemir (Istanbul University, Turkey), Prof. Philippe Germak (CNAM Paris, France). Confirmations from a number of other esteemed academics are awaited and will be announced soon.

Papers will be assigned to one of several large domains of interest. Keynote addresses will be organized per each large domain of interest directed towards specialized audiences. A maximum number of 3 or 4 papers will be included in each session in order to allow time for feedback. Subject to availability of participants and quality of papers, a discussant may be assigned.

Submission rules

Only full papers written in English can be submitted to the conference. Full papers should be directly submitted electronically on the conference website between March 1 and April 1, 2010. Authors will be informed whether their paper has been accepted for presentation before May 15, 2010. Participants should register before June 1, 2010.

Publication outlets

The papers presented at AMIS 2010 will be made available to conference participants on a CD with ISBN. Should you not agree with this inclusion, please send an email at amis2010@cig.ase.ro.

The reviewers of the conference along with the editorial board of the Journal of Accounting and Management Information Systems (JAMIS) will select high-quality papers to be considered for publication in JAMIS upon compliance with the reviewers' comments. Also, the conference organizers have extended the collaboration with the esteemed International Journal of Accounting and Information Management (IJAIM) published by Emerald. Several papers presented at AMIS will be selected for a review for and possibly published in IJAIM subject to acceptance by the journal's reviewers.

Conference fees

The conference fee of €100 per participant will include attendance at all conference sessions, the conference bag, all conference materials, lunches and coffee breaks, and participation at the Gala Dinner. A special fee of €50 will be charged to doctoral students. These special fees were established considering the difficult crisis all of us experience nowadays. Nevertheless, the organizing committee is making much effort to attract, like for the last editions, a large number of internationally recognized academics available for support and advice during the conference days. Their participation has to be acknowledged and rewarded appropriately.
